

Welcome to Ranchers Connecting Ranchers

Our mission is to provide cattle producers with low cost, high-quality, efficient, and rancher friendly services that allow our customers to maximize the use of value added programs. Utilizing our personal family ranching experience combined with industry expertise, our team is ready to help you identify and complete the verification program(s) that best suit your individual ranch goals.

Our Story

In 2014, two father and daughter ranching teams came together in partnership with one goal in mind – To create a new agriculture verification company, designed to move our industry into the future, with a name that our fellow industry professionals could trust.

Committed to excellence, these ranchers began by listing what was important to them when it came to verification services. What were the good things about the verification services already in the industry? What things could be improved upon? What things were a verification company and the customer most concerned with before and after the audit? But perhaps most importantly, how can we make it better?

With over 20 years of combined experience with verification services and at the auditing table, the ranchers worked to create a business model designed to offer a better option for their fellow cattle ranchers. They knew there was a need for a true, industry-friendly verification company, willing to go the extra mile . . . And they decided to answer the call.
